DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendments and accompanying remarks filed 1/23/04 have been entered and carefully considered. Applicant's amendment is not found to patently distinguish the claims over the prior art and Applicant's arguments are not found persuasive of patentability for reasons set forth herein below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3, 6-8, and 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McGuire et al (6254965 B1) in view of Akahori et al (5310587), and Asahi (JP 404154579A), as set forth in the previous three actions.

Applicant argues that McGuire fails to teach SMS laminate. The examiner takes official notice that it is common and well known in the art to utilize SMS laminates. As such, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to utilize an SMS laminate as the multilayer laminate of McGuire. Such a modification would have been motivated by the desire to a nonwoven laminate having desirable properties. The examiner notes that the facts asserted to be common and well-known are capable of instant and unquestionable demonstration as being well-known. To adequately traverse such a finding, an applicant must specifically point the supposed errors in the examiner's action, which would include stating why the noticed fact is not considered to be common knowledge or well-known in the art.

Applicant repeats the argument that it would not have been obvious to vary the thickness of the sheet. This argument is not persuasive for the reasons previously set forth.
